Thomas Edison is seventy-four years old today,

The famous inventor was born at Milan, Ohio, on February

NEW YORK, It is true of the embryo Edison-he tells it himself -that the first time he ever saw a goose setting on eggs and found out why, he disappeared to be found after many hours setting on all the eggs he could gather. If a goose could hatch eggs, why could not he? If the steady heat of application and perserverance in a goose could produce life, why was it not worth while to try out the same qualities in himself?

This is the first problem Thomas Alva Edison remembers to have confronted, and he says it is not so very different from some of the latest problems upon which he is at work. SPIRIT OF THE WONDER-WIZARD

Nor has he changed much except to grow. It is strikingly a case of the child being father to the man. Such refusal to take accepted facts clumsy and weighed 75 pounds at the of faith and such impulse to test the truth out for himself, were the lifeformative cells from which the amazing career has taken shape and learn telegraphy, his own sounder strength. Since the day he might have hatched the ergs, if his folks had let him, by the same application and perseverance he has woodd ten thousand secrets from the inner sout of reluciant nature, and if he has not created life he at least has miraculously transformed conditions of human

Next, learning that seldlitz powder is a gas and that gas is lighter than air, the alert child mind conceived that if one would take enough eat less, of it one could fly. Edison says he would have taken it himself, but wanted to retain the detached attitude of a scientific observer, and so permitted a Dutch playmate to try it. There was swift enough ascension, me dull. When I want imagination but only of sauerkraut and howls.

When the unpromising lad was old enough to comprehend that that sparks that fly from the back of a cat are the mysterious element called electricity, which of late had been conjured to transfer taps over wire to great distances he learned all he could about it, then strung up a store-pipe wire and tried it out-actually with vigorously-rubbed cats. The cats failed, but not without thoro testing.

New Spring Suits and Frocks

A wonderful diversity of styles is at once apparent in this collection of new spring models.

If one chooses a suit there are fricotines and twill cords, in chic belted models and plain tailored types, in poiret twill and piquitine of elegant long lines with on without belts.

The dresses are equally charming and for serviceability one could hardly make a wiser choice than a taffeta frock-unless, indeed, it be of Canton crepe or Poiret twill. Novel embroidery and gay sashes are among the new distinguishing features.

ALL THE MONEY YOU HAVE CANNOT BUY TWO WORDS IN THESE COLUMNS

RIENDS: Since it is no longer permissible for my papels to account where was wont to be heard the clink of glasses, the merry jest and snatches of song as they imbibed of "the cup that cheers and likewisinebriates," they have been congregating in your places and also in soft drink emporiums.

According to the terms of an ordinance that it is proposed to ask council to adopt, you must have been throwing up screens or some thing of the sort that destroys the view of passersby on the street, so that they cannot determine, with one sweeping glance thru the window as they hurry by, just what everybody in your place is doing.

That's all wrong. Who knows, maybe some of my people are being restrained against their will in your place of business. And perhaps some brave spirit so far forgets the proprieties of these perilous times of near blue laws as to suggest a game of checkers or dominces, if he's fed up on pool and billiards. It's positively awful to think about. It's horrible! LIMA BEANE.

> 0 0 0 0 0 To Service Director McClain

RIEND MAC: If there is any possible chance of prosecuting a street and alley cleanup campaign within the near future, I trust that you'll bend every effort to bring it about.

There are large numbers of my people out of employment and they would doubtless be glad of the opportunity to help in such a campaign, for the monetary return it would bring them, besides affording them an opportunity to assist in a much needed civic improvement.

You should do this, by all means, even if the city has to borrow money to pay for the work. Take it up with my city council. I feel certain that they will aid to as great an extent ms possible.

0 0 0 0 0 To Police Chief Roush

Y DEAR JAKE: I don't know whether you know about it, but if you do, this will serve as a reminder anyway, that it might be well for you to be on your guard. Last Sunday night bold bad robbers operated almost within a stone's throw of the police headquar-

They're getting nearer and nearer to my police station and unless you are more vigilant I very much fear that they'll penetrate even the police station itself and carry away some of my policemen. I haven't such a large number that I can afford to lose any of them; so please be careful, Jake.

LIMA BEANE.

To the County Officials

TENTLEMEN: I am informed that a very Iarge per cent of the orders for supplies, emanating from the court house, is sent to Toledo or some other larger city, to help support firms of cities that have no interest in Lima and Allen-co, save and except as to the amount of money that can be extracted from it,

There is no objection on the part of any. one to inviting bids on large contracts from outside the county; in fact, it ought to be done. But where the price made by local people is only a few dollars higher than that offered by outsiders on contracts involving thousands of dollars of the peoples money, it does look reasonable that home interests should be consid-

There are many hundreds of families in Lima depending upon the earnings of heads of the families employed here. The owners of businesses here have big investments on which they pay thousands of dollars in taxes. It doesn't look fair or reasonable to send out of town for nearly everything needed in the court | For the scientists condemn them as a parking place house and which the people of Lima and Allenco pay for. Think it over.

To Governor Davis

MY DEAR HARRY: It's an old saying that imitation is the sincerest form of flattery. If that's true, you must think a lot more of Warren G. Harding than appeared possible before or since the election.

I note that in addition to summoning the "best minds" of the state to your aid, as did Warren in the nation, that you're going a step farther and that you are to have a cabinet. There's no need of the national government having a monopoly on the cabinet idea. You, as Governor of Ohio, are entitled to such a piece of furniture if you want it. Help your-Bell, Harry.

To the Chamber of Commerce MY DEAR FOLKS: The planks of your platform of progress, laid before my people this week, sound good to me. With such a comprehensive program, worked out faithfully by a bunch of live wires back of the manager of my chamber of commerce, good results are certain to be attained. I believe you share with me the belief that J. Kennard Johnson is qualified and able to make every plank of that platform mean something. I know he can, but you've got to help him. Don't forget that.

To Andy Gray To John Thompson To Walt Craig

Y DEAR BOYS: The result of the contest M suit Walt brought against Andy and John is not surprising to me. Not that I had inside information of any kind or that I was particularly or vitally interested one way or the other, but somehow I had a hunch that Walt was going to prove his contention if the case ever got to the point of a recount of the ballots in the precincts Walt specified.

However, I understand that the fight isn't over, Walt, and that you'll have to prove to the satisfaction of Andy and John that the interpretation placed on the election laws, that permitted a recount of the ballots, was strictly

I am very sorry that you have gotten yourselves into such a tangle, but as matters now stand. Walt is on the top of the beap, with nearly two years time for the election to ard to cross out the figure 2 on your election certificate and substitute therefore the figure 4, meaning that you're to have a four-year term instead of one for two years.

This is all at the expense of Andy and they do say that he will also be required to pay the court costs of the contest suit. Thus, he loses in double measure if that is true, unless John comes across and helps him pay the piper.

M Y DEAR DOCTOR: I understand that at the meeting of the American Legion tonight the question of the tender of the service: of Legion members to my mayor for patrol duty at night in the west end will be consider-

I trust that you and your comrades who did their part in helping to win the world war so quickly and thoroly will realize that the need of something of the sort is necessary, since the executive and heads of the police department can see no reason for alarm, altho there are nightly disturbances reported, young girls are attacked, homes invaded, people peep in windows and my citizens in the west part of the city are terrorized.

My officials assume to feel that the whole thing is the result of imaginative persons becoming excited, but some of the best people in my city who have been victims of the night prowlers know the difference between imagination and reality, the official family to the contrary notwithstanding.

Therefore, in all sincerity, I urge you to have the Legion act and act quickly, so that the marauders may be rounded up and punished as they deserve to be punished. It's up to you and the Legion boys, since the officials fail to appreciate the situation.

One of the best acts on the program is the offering of Tex Ellis, who they tell us, was one of the featured blackfoce comedians of Dumont's minstrels. To inspiring music (?) of "Twelfth Street Rag" Mr. Ellis does a dance that is a knock-out. His jokes and patter are well-worn in some spots, and original in others, is an absolutely new one to me.

So, if you're out looking for a nice little comedy drama with nothing deep about it, you should make it a point to see "Her Husband's Friend" for that's the kind of picture it is.

Big Noise Doesn't Win

But the Big Values Do

IT'S a difficult task these days for the average man to pick the wheat from the chaff in clothing advertising.

"Sales" to the Right - "Sales" to the Left "Per Cent" Off Here - "Half Price" There

> A level headed clothing merchant in the Northwest made the following comment on these "mark down sales":

CUPPOSE you were to pass a grocery store and saw a sign—'Sugar at half price-formerly 28c, now 14c,' would you pay 14c just to get it at half price, when you can buy all you want today at 10c? Still the groceryman would only be telling the truth when he says formerly 28c," for sugar did reach that price."

> Clothing stores that advertise to sell at half price "Suits formerly $90, now at $45," are trying to sell 28c sugar at 14c.

NOW, MEN OF LIMA

You know P & Q Clothes are sold on a common sense basis. They are never "boosted" to a $90 level and never will be! P & Q prices are figured down to the marrow in the first place.

LIMA MAN FOLLOWS UP TIP FROM FRIEND AND MAKES BIG FIND

Story of Daniel D. Hildebrand UNION-ST MAN Recalls Historic Search o Ponce de Leon-Triumph o Modern Over Ancient Ideas.

The story of Daniel G. Hildebrand, Lima carpenter, recalls the great adventures of the famous Pouce de Leon, who fared forth from Europe across the seas into the American wilderness in search of a fountain of youth that, according to tradition, existed somewhere on earth. Ponce de Leon endured great hardships and found nothing to make him feel more youthful. Things came easier for Mr. Hildebrand of Lima. He acted on a suggestion from a friend. endured no hardships whatever and unimportant, as he can get away lights in being exercised and that is says he found that Pepgen relieved with almost anything. "I wish others to be benefitted by this wonderful remedy and that is why I am glad to give a statement for publication, recommending Pepgen," says Mrs. Evelyne Brown of 115 S. Jackson-st, Lima.

"I suffered a great deal from stomach trouble," says Mrs. Brown.

"It is hardly necessary to go into details. No one who is blessed with a good healthy stomach can realize what a person with a disordered one endures. And those who have bad stomach can appreciate from experience, just what I went thru.

"My appetite kept on dwindling away to almost nothing I became more nervous and I was finding that restful sleep was becoming more rare for me.

"I tried Pepgen I hoped it would help me but did not expect a great deal. I was surprised. My test of it has been thorough. I have no more stomach trouble. I have a good appetite now. My nervousness is gone and I sleep well at night, Pepgen is simply wonderful and I wish others to be benefitted by it."

Mrs. Guy Says Pepgen Made a Remarkable Change.

Mrs. Pearl Guy, or 498 McPherron avenue, Lima, knows what a wonderful thing it is to have good health and she appreciates it all the more because, for a long time she was in such a poor state of health that she says she simply had to force herself to daily tasks. Mrs. Guy attributes her splendid improvement to Theodore Wert Now Puts No Pengen and has given a statement recommending this remedy. USE MUSTARD FOR MUSCULAR, SCRENESS

A very penetrating liniment is made from mustard, sassafras, menthol and ammonia. It enters the pores without much rubbing and does not blister. In severe cases of rheumatism, lumbago and muscular sore-ness this liniment should be used in conjunction with Pepgen Tonic, You can get it already prepared at any first-class drug store. Ask for "Pepgen Liniment," as that is the name under which it is sold.

Corn was relatively firm, owing to continued smallness of country offerings of feed stuffs. After opening unchanged to 1-2c higher, including May at 67 7-3 to 68 1-4 the market eased of a little.

Oats paralleled the action of corn, starting unchanged to 3-Seligher, May 44 1-1 to 44 3-8 and after hardening somewhat further, underwert a moderate sag.

Provisions were stronger in line with hogs.

The wheat close was unsettled, 1 1-4 to 2 1-4c net lower with March $1.65 1-4 to 1.65 1-2 and May $1.54 to 1.54 1-4.

Some corn export business was steady, at same as yesterday's finish to 1-4c higher with May 67 7-8 to 68.

LIMA A COAL DUMP

Thousands of tons of Coal, much of it of an inferior quality has been shipped into Lima this winter in search of a market. Such coal is known in the trade as "Distressed Coal" and some coal haulers handle such conf because it can be sold cheap to those who consider "Price" before "Quality."

ALL THE MONEY YOU HAVE CANNOT BUY TWO WORDS IN THESE COLUMNS

ODAY is observed the anniversary of the L birth of one of the greatest characters of America, Abraham Lincoln, liberator o. ... enslaved race, a martyred President, struck down by the hand of an assassin on the very eve of the greatest work of his life-the supervision of the reconstruction of the South, after the close of the Civil war, when a stern and steady hand was needed to guide and direct.

The world will long remember-it probably can never altogether forget—the great service he rendered, not only to his own country, but to the cause of liberty and justice the world over. His life story is for the most part one of sorrow, Lincoln's struggles against the hampering hand of poverty standing out as remakable in accomplishment.

As a boy he was an inveterate reader; as a man he was the champion of right and the foe of oppression. Recognizing that in his day his best work for others could be accomplished in the pursuit of politics, he threw himself whole-souledly into a political career. "Honest Abe," a nickname of which he was proud, remained with him until the close of his eventful life.

Altho having lacked the advantage of an education, he battled his way onward, mastered a knowledge of the law, was admitted to the bar and for some time met reverses in his politistronger man from a fixed purpose. When, at the age of 45. Lincoln met the greatest crisis of his life, he had no hesitancy in declaring himself against slavery and when that question became paramount to all others, he was chosen as the man of the hour. The future of the union was at stake.

To take up the cause of the slaves meant certain loss of a United States Senatorship from Illinois for him, but he put duty before self. When he declared that this country "could not be half-slave and half-free," the prediction of his friends came true. He lost a United States Senatorship, but that same speech won him the Presidency of the United States and a name and fame second only to that of George Washington. 0 0 0 0 0

SEEKING OLD TRADE

TERMANY had a flourishing business established in South America and Mexico at the time the war broke out, says the Daytor News. Since that time, despite a good many hard bumps and distressing circumstances, Germany has not overlooked these fields of commercial profit. American trade commissioners in Buenos Aires, Santiago, Mexico City and Lima have run across these business ambassadors hopping right along and paying no more attention to the allied reparations levy than the man in the street. It is an established fact that German freight is arriving in Chile in constantly increasing volume. Salesmen from Germany are offering silverplated, nickel, pottery and enamel ware in larger quantities than any other nation. Machinery, too, is being offered in much lower prices than man / other competitive nations have listed their stock. We are informed that German hardware in Peru can be purchased 25 per cent cheaper than American hardware. Electrical supplies are finding a ready and responsive market in South America and Mexico. What does this mean? Chief and fundamentally it means that the German manufacturer has gone about reconstructing his trade centers in seeming ignorance of the economic condition which the allied demands have threatened-Seeking old trade routes has become a popluar custom with the Germans. They have not been asleep, nor falled to sense the advantage which awaits universal manufacture.

NARROW PARSIMONY

THOSE authorities which have charge of 1 the distribution of the public moneys quite frequently lay themselves open to ironic criticism thru their fidelity to an ancient practice once expressed in cynical homely phrase: "Save at the spigot, leak at the bunghole." Says the Cincipnati Engineer.

Congresses, Legislatures, Councils, Boards of Commissioners and other representative bodies intrusted with the duty of building public works are expert in the matter of spigot saving, and quite often this narrow parsimony-it never by any strength of imagination could be regarded as economy-invites serious trouble and future greater expenditure.

Narrow parsimony of this character in many sections of Ohio has resulted in narrow roads—roads too narrow for the personal safety of those who use them, too narrow to admit of adequate utility transportation.

Some of these pinchbeck ribbon highways are not remote from Cincinnati, as the automobile-traveling public has had sad reasons to realize. Each of these justly might be defined as, not a via sacra, but a via sacrifice, for they are the scenes of frequent collisions and wrecks, and, all too often, loss of life.

No road in Ohio, or anywwhere else should be less than 20 feet wide. No road anywhere should be permitted to remain as narrow as 12 feet, and there are plenty of such death-traps cal ambitions that would have swerved many a in Ohio. Assurance of safety in this regard is of higher importance even than the factor of commercial utility so generally advanced as an argument for roadway improvement. This is an automobile age. This means of locomotion is subject to many hazards at best. These hazards should not be increased by the parsimonious contraction of the public highways. 0 0 0 0 0

THE BERGDOLLS

O NE would naturally suppose that the man and the woman responsible for bringing into the world Erwin and Grover Bergdoll, wealthy draft evaders, have little or nothing to be proud of just at this time, so far as the status of their sons is concerned.

One of them is a prisoner at Fort Leavenworth, despite every tactic that money and influence can exert. The other is in Germany, having made a sensational escape from the United State, while under bond on a charge of evading the draft during the recent war.

So far as the Bergdoll brothers are concerned, one has nothing on the other. They were either too cowardly or too much in sympathy with their country's enemy to participate in the world war as soldiers in Uncle Sam's army. They ran away, but were caught "with the goods on," as they say in police court. Grover succeeded in getting out on bail while the hearing of his case was pending and like the coward he proved himself to be, ran away.

Erwin didn't have a chance to make a break from the country, or having such an opportunity, falled to advantage it. The Bergdoll cases are not the only ones of their kind. There are others, held in confinement and eagerly awaiting the outcome of the habeas corpus proceedings that have been instituted in an effort to get Erwin out of prison.

The war is not a matter of history so ancient that loyal American have forgotten the Bergdoll brothers and others of their kind. And they will not soon be forgotten. If Erwin should succeed in being liberated by the habeas corpus process, perhaps it will be just as well that he also depart for Germany and join his brother. Both of them will very likely be more at home there than anywhere in the United
